

Privacy disclosure pursuant to artt. 13-14 of the EU Privacy Regulation (GDPR)

The personal data entered by You, are processed by CO.ME.T. s.r.l., Località Talloria n.3, - 12060 Roddi D'Alba (CN), Tel. +39 0173 280254 - comet@cometalba.it - acting as Controller, for purposes associated with the provision of the services requested by You (without limitation: asking information, registering to the website to receive advantages and offers, obtaining estimates, making payment, purchase goods and receiving them at the address specified by You, making a reservation, exchanging documents).

Furthermore, the data provided by You, could be processed, on Your explicit consent only, for the purpose of sending business communications, by email or by sms, concerning services provided by the Controller.

With regard to the first group of purposes, the legal basis of the processing is the legitimate interests pursued by the Controller; with regard to the second purpose is Your consent.

Processing operations will take place with electronic modalities and will be made available to third parties (External Processors) inside and outside the EU, duly contracted and offering adequate security safeguards, necessary for the provision of essential services to satisfy Your needs. Said External Processors, the list of whom is available upon request, may belong to categories of persons supporting the Controller in the delivery of the services offered through this website (such as, without limitation: software developers and website managers, carriers).

Furthermore, they will be processed for statistical analysis and direct marketing purposes, on an anonymous basis, as better specified in the cookie policy.

Accordingly, they are legitimate processing operations necessary to assure a service capable of meeting Your expectations.

The data will be stored for the entire term of the services requested by You or for longer periods only where provided for by the law.

At any time You may exercise the rights provided for by articles 15 – 22 of GDPR by writing to the Controller of the present web site.

In order to rectify or erase your personal data that are stored in the systems used to supply the present web site, click here. The personal data You will insert in the form (including your email address) should be communicated to a company that acts as Processor on behalf of the Controller and that manages the website and the users' requests.

Should You ask for Your data to be erased, we inform You that it may no longer be possible to continue providing You with the service requested.

Finally, we inform You that You can lodge a complaint with the Data Protection Authority if You believe Your rights have been violated.